17. Card of Thanks

May I take this opportunity to thank ALL who have helped us in so many kind loving ways since my mother, Mrs. Mary Moon, had a stroke in January 1983.

Some of you come each morning and evening to help bathe and turn her. Thank you for your greeting cards, visits, sunshine boxes and prayers.

She loves young people - thank you for coming to sing, to have Acteen and G. A. meetings, too. Thank you for visiting by phone and for those who join us in prayers always for her.

Benefit production to be staged by VBH auxiliary

People throughout the Lynchburg area who enjoy singing, acting and dancing are invited to audition for a community variety revue sponsored by the Virginia Baptist Hospital Auxiliary as a benefit program for the hospital.

"We're Looking Good" is the theme of the musical revue to be held the evenings of Nov. 16 and 17 at E.C. Glass High School auditorium.

"The show will be a professionally produced event featuring Lynchburg residents as the performers," said Mrs. Jere Bass, auxiliary president and chairperson. "People interested in being a part of the revue need not be professional performers. Anyone who enjoys singing, dancing, acting or performing for pleasure and would like to be involved in a stage performance is invited to try out.

"Even though the entire event is still several months away, we want at this point to encourage residents to know about "We're Looking Good" and make plans to participate," said Mrs. Bass.

The show will be directed by the Jerome Cassell Production from New York. J.C. Mackillop, who has directed plays for the Bedford - Little Town Players, is the local talent chairman. Anyone interested in participating may contact him, at 384-7417.

Proceeds from the musical revue will be used toward auxiliary sponsored projects at Virginia Baptist Hospital. These projects include construction cost of the new child-care center, the hospital volunteer department and additional patient room, purchase of a nurse call system for better service to patients and to upgrade the gift shop.

For more information about "We're Looking Good," contact the hospital volunteer department at 385-4000.
